DR. W. KOEHLER,
Surgical & Mechanical Dentist,
Deutscher Zahnarzt,

TAKES PLEASURE in announcing to the citizens of Portland and vicinity that he is now permanently located in this city, and fully prepared to perform all the Operations belonging to the Dental Department in the most competent and professional manner, in Surgical Treatment as well as in the construction of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, in the newest and most improved methods, on the following materials:

GOLD, PLATINA, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, or CORALITE BASE,

at the option of the Patient.

The Extraction of Teeth by his method is new to any other, as the patient need not undergo the unpleasant, if not dangerous state of inhaling Chloroform, but will have his tooth extracted without that horrid pain which he generally treats to the last endurable moment of suffering.

All operations warranted to give satisfaction, or no charge will be made.

Special attention paid to the regulation of children's teeth.

Difficult Dental Operations particularly solicited.

Ladies waited on at their residences if desired.

References of Physicians and Families given at the Office.

Prices will be moderate in all cases.

INAUGURATION OF GOV. COBURN.—Governor Coburn, of Maine, was inaugurated on the 8th of January at Augusta. The subjoined is a synopsis of his Inaugural Message:

He pays a merited tribute to the patriotism of Maine, which has furnished for the war over 40,000 men, without resorting to a draft. Alluding to the State finances, the Governor says the expenditures have been increased in various ways by the existence of the war, but not in such a manner as to embarrass the treasury, oppress the people, or affect our credit. Indeed, at no previous period have our State bonds commanded so high a premium in the market as they have during the past year. The attention of the Legislature is called to the expediency of renewing the Act permitting the suspension of specie payments by the banks, which expires by limitation on the 10th of this month. The banks were rarely, if ever in a sounder condition than to-day. The establishment of a naval and military station at Portland by the General Government is recommended. The Governor concludes with extended remarks on national affairs, approving the President's proclamation of freedom, in reference to which he says: "It will be clearly within the dispensation of God's justice that a system of oppression which violates the natural rights of man, which has always stirred up strife and contention, and which was the direct cause of our present struggles, should wither and perish in the wrathful storm, which, in its rage, it dared to provoke." The Governor urges unity of sentiment in the loyal States, saying: "Thus far we have, with patriotic unanimity, sustained the President in his efforts to subdue the rebellion. The people of the loyal States have poured out their treasure, and their blood, in unstinted measure, and in their devotion to the country, men have forgotten the prejudices of party. Upon a continuance of this cordial co-operation of all loyal men hangs the fate of the nation; and hence, with all earnestness, I exhort the people of this State to maintain a patriotic unity in the support of the President."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB 18, 1863

Battle at Hunt's Cross Roads – Our readers will doubtless recollect the decisive defeat of the rebel Forrest, near Lexington, Tennessee, which was reported by telegraph about the 20th of January The action took place at Hunt's Cross Roads, near Lexington, on the 26th of December. The Unionists, about five thousand strong, were commanded by Gen. Sullivan, who found Forrest, with seven thousand cavalry and eleven pieces of artillery, strongly posted and ready for a fight The Unionists had no artillery, but that made no difference—they went boldly to their work, and, after an action of four hours, nine pieces of Forrest's artillery were captured, and his force routed in every direction. The rebels left eleven hundred killed and wounded on the ground, a vast number of their horses were captured, besides five hundred prisoners The Union loss was six hundred killed, wounded and missing. This action was a striking proof that brave troops can overcome great disadvantages with a leader of skill and dash Such a one is Gen Sullivan, who belongs to that class of much derided "civilian generals," who, so far, have won pretty much all the glory of this war, even if many of them are justly blamed for incompetency.

False.—The Jacksonville Sentinel says that the Oregonian charged W H Rector with drawing "a large amount of coin from the paymaster [!] at San Francisco, and that he invested that coin in the depreciated currency of the Government, making eight or ten thousand dollars by the transaction." We denounce the statements of the Sentinel as a tissue of falsehoods, for which there is no proof whatever. We would be pleased to know what inducements were held out to that journal to publish such statements. Perhaps they are weighty enough to convince the Sentinel. We can inform our cotemporary that its intermeddling in this matter will not mend it, and it will require something more than has yet been said by it, falsehoods as they are, to affect the standing or influence of the Oregonian in this city. We advise the Sentinel, and those who set it on in this matter, to economize their wrath or they may rue it. We disdain to enter into any argument with our 7x9 cotemporary, when every reader of this journal knows the falsity of the Sentinel's remarks.

Confederate Bombast.—As we at first said, Gen. Tom. Jordan's report of the naval action off Charleston turns out to be the veriest bombast. Thomas is given to that style of writing when he is excited, and that is most of the time. A very good man is Thomas, in the main, but economical of truth at times. This arises from that high-strung chivalrous inclination to disdain the matter of fact and launch out into the metaphorical. We would not accuse Gen Jordan of telling a willful fib, but we are compelled to take his stories with some grains of salt, just as we do those of our Lewiston cotemporary. From our news columns it will be seen that the action referred to is of inconsiderable importance, and amounts to nothing in a practical point of view Now that this big story of Gen. Jordan's is disproved, we look for him to retract the assertion that "it is somewhat impossible to conquer the sunny South."

Gen. McClellan—The rumor that Gen McClellan is about to return to the command of the Army of the Potomac may prove true If it does, it is likely that Gen Halleck will throw up the Command-in-Chief, as he and McClellan are entirely beyond reconcilement It is no matter who the man is, if he leads our soldiers to victory We cannot afford to experiment with the life of the nation, and we look upon the struggles of parties as purely empirical—having no promise of success in them.

Robbery and Attempt to Murder.—The Sentinel says that an attempt to commit murder was made in the vicinity of Jacksonville, on the 7th inst., at the hour of one o'clock in the morning. The cabin of an Italian, living on Rich Gulch, was broken into, at the time named, by a masked robber, who at once attacked the Italian, inflicting several severe and dangerous gashes on his hands and face On the Italian promising to give up his money, the ruffian desisted from the attack, and the Italian gave up $65 to him, after which, he departed

New Reservations—It is said to be the intention of the Indian Department to organize two new reservations on this coast One will gather all the Southern Oregon and Northern California Indians at Klamath lake, and the other will have jurisdiction of the Indians of Oregon living east of the Cascades Range. The Statesman says that the first named of these reservations will have Lindsay Applegate for an agent, and the second Wm H Barnhart.

Rags—During the month of November last eleven thousand bales of cotton rags were shipped from Liverpool to the United States The major part of them were Egyptian and Japanese waste

Letter from British Columbia

Camp near Bonaparte Creek
January 10th 1863

Editor Oregonian

The weather in this northern region is extremely mild, and the winter has been unusually favorable for keeping over stock The snow has at no time been deep and it has usually melted off in a few days after the heaviest fall of it

NEW DIGGINGS ON THE NORTH FORK OF THOMPSON

There is considerable excitement here in relation to diggings on the North Fork of Thompson river, near its head waters The locality of these new gold fields is about two hundred and twenty five miles from Fort Kamloops The reports are of the character usually called "rose-colored" which is very much in vogue in these British dominions so I cannot vouch for the correctness of them However, I know that there was a party that went up Thompson river last fall, and when they returned reported that they had found diggings prospecting as high as $5 a pan The party then purchased large supplies of provisions and went back again, since which time they have not been heard of Upon the basis of this report there is a considerable rush up the North Fork

THE CARIBOO MINES

There is no longer a doubt of the richness of the mines of Cariboo, and particularly those on William Creek Some new discoveries have been made above the town of Richfield which are represented to be immensely rich The gold is found at a depth of sixty feet, and pay dirt ten feet in thickness has been proven to exist In the far famed Black Jack tunnel a day's work has repeatedly turned out thirty pounds of gold But with all these evidences of the richness of the mines, there are abundant proofs that all who come here are not fortunate enough to get even a small portion of the gold which lies hidden under the earth

PROSPECTS OF LIVE STOCK

There are about twenty five hundred head of beef cattle and three thousand mules and horses wintering on the waters of Thompson, Bonaparte and Quesnelle The cattle however, are rather more scattered One lot of beef cattle, belonging to Mr Harper, numbering six or seven hundred, are wintering at or near Fort Kamloops About five hundred head are on the head of Lake Okanagan, which are all doing well In the vicinity of Bonaparte and Thompson, there must be near fifteen hundred more Except the retail trade to packers, the sales of beef are nominal It has sold at 10c in this neighborhood, and I hear of sales at 4c, afoot, further up the country. Mr Heatherly, an Oregonian, sold the remainder of his stock one hundred and sixty head of beef cattle, and three hundred head of sheep at $30 a head for cattle and $4 a head for sheep Mr Courtney, of Umatilla, Oregon, is camped a few miles below here, on Bonaparte, with three hundred head, and Messrs Scroggins & Whitley, of Polk county Oregon, a short distance up the creek, with four hundred and fifty head of cattle They are rather disappointed with the prospects for a market in the spring, but have the advantage of having their stock ready for the early spring trade, with meat enough on them to make them saleable Horses are selling at from $50 to $75, and mules from $75 to $125

We anticipate an early opening of business in the spring, with but slender prospects of getting our share of the California emigration

Thomas

The Washoe Times says that Mr Derrickson, the late publisher of that paper, was shot by Swayze before he returned the fire Public opinion appears to be very much against Swayze for the killing of Derrickson

A cavalry company has been organized in San Francisco, called the "California Cossacks." It appears to be in bad taste for Americans to be adopting outlandish military names, and the title of Comanche is as appropriate as Cossacks

The conduct of the war is denounced as unconstitutional by those who do not see the unconstitutionality of secession, thus making the incidental mistakes of the Unionists more criminal than the rebellion itself, without which there would be no war at all

The new iron clads, of the Monitor's style, have many improvements on the old ones The first Monitor was built to give the British a hint of what they might expect from us, and we have continued to admonish her by building some dozens of iron clads Ordinarily, advice is wasted on our chuckle headed parent but the admonitions of our "Monitors" are likely to be heeded in future

A Rebel Prisoner in Congress—Lieut Garrett, of Stuart's rebel cavalry a paroled prisoner, was on the floor of the House lately escorted by Wickliffe of Kentucky As soon as his presence on the floor was discovered he was expelled, and Wickliffe was thus deprived of his congenial companion The day before Vallandigham was showing him around

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Philadelphia Feb 8—The Sunday Times Washington dispatch says there is no enemy in force at Fredericksburg Most of the troops have been sent to Vicksburg, the only force left behind being 15 000 an ample number to prevent the passage of the Rappahannock at the present season

During the present week the President has determined upon calling Gen McClellan to the command of the army again On the announcement being made in the Cabinet there was much feeling exhibited Chase and the rest of the radicals threatened to resign For these and other reasons the President left rid making any change for two weeks however there is scarcely a doubt but that the command of the army will be tendered to McClellan

St Louis Feb 7—George Francis Train was arrested at the Planters House by a U S officer, and was allowed the alternative of leaving the State in half an hour or go to jail He chose the former

Camp near Vicksburg Feb 3—The example of the Queen of the West, running the blockade at Vicksburg will be followed by the ram Monarch to night and if successful these rams will be able to keep open the river for several days, with the assistance of one or two iron-clads whose commanders are now soliciting the privilege of running the blockade

New York Feb 9th—The Richmond Examiner of the 5th and Inquirer of the 6th contain information from Charleston to the 30th January to the effect that a most formidable naval and land expedition was about to attack Charleston, the preparations being nearly completed

Chattanooga Feb 4th—The following dispatch was received Dechard Jan. 31st—The enemy advanced 12 miles from Murfreesboro, yesterday with one brigade and six pieces artillery, on a foraging expedition They made a vigorous attack on our cavalry shelling us back a short distance to near Forrestville. Anderson's brigade fortunately arrived, and we repulsed them with loss of 300 killed and wounded our loss small Heavy skirmishing is looked for daily

Philadelphia, Feb 8—The steamer Princess Royal has additional particulars in regard to the Charleston affair, showing conclusively that there is no truth for the assumption of the rebels that the blockade of Charleston was ever raised, by the departure of the blockading fleet, only two vessels out of ten having been obliged to leave It appears from the statement of an eye witness that at daylight the rebel iron clads were seen coming from the direction of Stono Inlet towards the fleet, thus attacking the Mercedita first, and one ram struck her near the water's edge keeling her over For some time there was firing of shot, one of which entered one of her boilers and caused the death of three persons when Capt Stillwagon lowered a boat after tearing the plug out and allowing the water to enter The Captain of the ram asked "Do you surrender?" This was repeated three times, Stillwagon answering at each inquiry "I am in a sinking condition The rebels answered, "If you don't surrender we will blow you out of water, send your boat aboard" The boat that had been lowered then conveyed the officer to the rebel ram who asked to be admitted on board This was refused "We are in a sinking condition," was again repeated The rebels replied, "You can't sink lower than the rails, we can't take you on board" The officer then gave his parole as demanded and returned

The rebels were thus successfully deceived in regard to the condition of the Mercedita She lay in shoal water hence the reply that she could not sink below the rails The ram then steamed towards the Keystone State and sent a shot through her wheel house In the meantime the gunboat Housatonic engaged the other rebel ram, driving her away At 6¼ in the morning both rams left for Charleston

During the attack on our fleet the Princess Royal succeeded in escaping She steamed to Port Royal with assistance of third engineer of the Mercedita, having only one of her boilers injured She can be repaired in a day The Keystone State was disabled, but was towed to Port Royal The rebel statement that the Federal fleet had disappeared from Charleston is untrue, from the fact that our vessels returned at dark The new Ironsides arrived the next day to reinforce the blockaders

Sacramento, Feb 9th—Hon John Conness was nominated in Senatorial caucus to night on the first ballot He received 60 votes out of 101 The announcement created great enthusiasm and confusion, amidst which the caucus adjourned sine die

San Francisco, Feb 9th—The steamer Constitution brought up $300 000 of treasure recovered from the Golden Gate

CIRCUIT COURT.—The following is an account of the business done in the Circuit Court yesterday, Judge Shattuck presiding:

Bennett & Quimby vs Patrick Manning—jury out.

E. J Northcott vs the O S. N. Co.—trial progressing.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—We call attention to A B. Richardson's advertisement of the sale at auction of valuable city property on Tuesday, the 24th instant. Persons desiring to purchase will do well to get ready in time to offer for this property.

STAMPS.—The reader will please notice the advertisement of S J. McCormick of the Franklin Book Store, in regard to U. S. stamps. He will be ready to supply stamps by the first of March, at which time the law goes into effect on this coast; its operations having been suspended until that time by special orders from the General Government.

VICTORIA NEWS.—We have papers from Victoria to the 12th of February, from which we make up the following news:

The Fire Department of Victoria is about to disband for the lack of means to get along, and the want of encouragement among property-holders.

The small-pox was abating, both on the main land and at Victoria.

It is rumored that Viscount Bury is to be appointed Governor of British Columbia He is at present a member of Palmerston's Cabinet.

The Chronicle asserts that arrangements were made to fit out a Confederate pirate at Victoria, but were defeated by lack of means

THE DRAFT.—The Statesman opposes a draft in this State, and cites the fact that it has proved inoperative in the Atlantic States A draft might do for infantry, but it is absurd to get men by that means for cavalry service The law may force a man to mount a horse, but there is no law that can compel him to stay on in spite of gravitation—which is a natural law not to be set aside by any human edict. We can fancy the picture of four hundred reluctant equestrians, riding after as many different styles of horsemanship!

SAN FRANCISCO FINANCES.—The city treasury of San Francisco had $600,000 in it on [illegible] of February. The taxes have produced vastly more than was calculated, as they were predicated on forty-five millions and [illegible] on sixty-six.

One of the greatest difficulties to be encountered by strangers in San Francisco, is the selection of a place where to procure an outfit. Nearly all the Clothiers keep second rate articles, and the inexperienced is as likely to select the inferior quality when the choice is left with himself. This dilemma will be escaped if you make your purchases of Heuston, Hastings & Co., who deal only in goods of a superior quality. Their Stores are on Montgomery street, (Lick House,) corner of Sutter, San Francisco.

D[illegible] Balsam.—This highly efficacious and popular medicine astonishes, by its good [illegible], every CONSUMPTIVE sufferer who makes use of it, [illegible] who have tried a thousand remedies in vain will [illegible] regret its trial. A few cases will give proof of its [illegible] over all other remedies known.

REDINGTON & CO.,
General Agents for the Pacific Coast,
416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco.

[illegible] THE FIRE-PROOF STONE WAREHOUSE, opposite [illegible], is the only building "not made of wood," [illegible], where goods are taken on STORAGE. All other [illegible] that take goods on storage are wooden buildings [illegible] parts of the town, liable to the risk of fire. The subscriber assures his patrons that his charges are but $1 50 per ton per month storage and although [illegible] in wooden buildings is $1 00 per ton, yet the public [illegible] to receive the advantages the subscriber possesses over other warehouses of this place.

[illegible] Jan 20, 1863 1m RASEY BIVEN.

[illegible] The sudden changes of our climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections. [illegible] having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "[illegible] Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement. ded16dawSm

White's Fever and Ague Drops For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure, in Ague especially, one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone A cure is guaranteed in [illegible] out of ten.

Prepared only by ROBERT WHITE, Chemist and Druggist, Main street, Placerville, and Broadway, Upper Placerville. For sale by all respectable Druggists throughout the State.

HAVING secured the services of Dr. C H. MACK, formerly of New York city, and late of St Louis, who is an experienced and skilful Dentist, I am now prepared to manufacture and insert Artificial Teeth by the following methods, namely GOLD, SILVER, RUBBER, AMBER, PORCELAIN BASE, GUM ENAMEL, RUBBER ATTACHMENT, CHEOLITE, CONTINUOUS GUM, MICA and ENAMELED PLATE WORK Some kinds of this work is recommended above all others, and needs but an inspection to prove its superiority for cleanliness, durability and life like appearance to any artificial teeth in use Filling and cleaning teeth, and all operations in Dental Surgery, either mechanical, operative or surgical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by low priced or roughly finished operations. I use no cement in filling teeth, and seek in price to make no competition with cheap Dentists, and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skillful manner.

Operations that fail to give satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A M to 4 P M Indigent persons who are unable to pay full professional charges will call before and after office hours feb6 tf

The GREATEST SUCCESS of this CENTURY [illegible] ELECTRICAL MEDICINE

The Most [illegible] Remedy [illegible] Nature [illegible] current to the Cure of all Nervous and Spinal Diseases

THAT THIS POWER [illegible] SUCCESSFULLY APPLIED [illegible] is to prove the great [illegible] physicians to all [illegible] organic and functional derangements [illegible] that great principle [illegible] influence [illegible] existing diseased action

Too Much Cannot be Said

In its praise [illegible] highly probable that in health there is an [illegible] of the Electric principle and [illegible] health be broken [illegible] be negatively electrified [illegible] charged—is not the current [illegible] a war of forces going on in the system [illegible] and in order that the tissues [illegible] to remedial agents, we must first [illegible]

Awaken the Magnetic Life within us

The spinal [illegible] nervous systems Believing as I [illegible] magnetic [illegible] intended [illegible] of the earth [illegible] our bodies in health and [illegible] I am led to take advantage of the Press, through which [illegible] attention to the subject, that good may come to all

No Compromise with Disease

[illegible] strength [illegible] nature will relieve herself [illegible] stomach liver heart kidney and all the natural [illegible] active by ELECTRICAL excitation [illegible] the palsied the nervous, the dispirited, the melancholic the dyspeptic and the invalid [illegible] its benign influence

To the Ladies of California.

Dr Van Zandt [illegible] complaints of women both infantile [illegible] correct views of the origin of all their maladies Ladies can consult him with entire confidence as he is no speculator upon human ills. But is prizing himself the only specialist of the legitimate profession in California who is really successful in removing those ills which are the peculiar province of the sex His high appreciation of their delicately attuned nervous organism, together with their great sympathetic life renders him doubly able to assuage those silent complainings which they bear so patiently and so long No social disquiets [illegible] longer afflict our home circles for he can awaken the stricken energies, restore the wonted tonicity of the body awaken the melancholic and despondings arrest the drains which cause so much anxiety cure those protean maladies which have so long

Baffled the Skill of Physicians.

Develop appetite, life and animation dispel nervous headache sinking at the stomach wandering pains wasting away of strength, extreme debility and lifelessness hectic cough sleeplessness, unpleasant dreams and that general depression of life's powers which go to render her life a misery and death a boon Dr Van Zandt with his new method of exciting the Electro-Galvanic current, together with his remedial measures which are adapted to the necessities of California will assure you of a complete and radical recovery of all bodily and mental infirmities, and will restore you to usefulness, and spare you a [illegible] to your family and society

All the world over

wherever disease exists whether special to the soil and climate or common to all regions—epidemic or casual acute or chronic contagious or non-contagious—it is as necessary to restore the ELECTRO-GALVANIC equilibrium especially in California, as it is to give food to the starving This statement is based upon a series of facts extending through many years and verified by hundreds of patients so that no [illegible] of science or rule of experience no result of any well known cause rests upon more sure and unassailable foundations than those which underlie the world-wide reputation of Electricity for the cure of all nervous states of the body faulty digestion mental and physical debility or prostration, neuralgia asthma wandering pains of a rheumatic [illegible] or mercurial character and all forms of disease the result of a scrofulous or cachectic habit of body

None Need Despair of Relief.

If you have ulcers which will not heal—pains that can not be removed—melancholy which you cannot shake off—loss of power which you cannot regain—depression of spirits which weigh you down—wakefulness that knows no sleeping—languor that languishes for want of energy—a void which no society can fill—suspicion which no assurance can allay—[illegible] Dr Van Zandt for his great success and the safety with which he administers his new method of electrical excitation, together with his remedies which are adapted to the requirements of climate and constitution will assure you of a complete and radical removal of all bodily and mental infirmities within the scope of science and man to remove

The Eye and Ear Diseases.

It must not be forgotten by the eye and ear sufferers that Dr Van Zandt has made those afflictions an especial study and that he is the only Surgeon in our State who has a diploma for that branch of practice Very many of the eye and ear troubles are purely deranged nervous action and are cured by his electric galvanic battery—as amaurosis, [illegible] floating specks before the vision, twitching of the eyelids nervous deafness, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears giddiness etc All operations successfully done on those delicate organs of sense

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, [illegible] the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were [illegible] to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short tim,

Don't Run in Debt

Don't run in debt never mind never mind,
If your clothes are faded and torn
Fix them up, make them do it is better far
Than to have the heart weary and worn

Who'll love you more for the cut of your hat
Or your ruff or the tie of your shoe
The shape of your vest or boots or cravat
If they know you're in debt for the new?

There's no comfort I tell you in walking the street
In fine clothes if you know you're in debt
And feel that some tradesman perchance you may meet
Who will sneer They're not paid for yet

Good friend, let me beg of you don't run in debt
If the chairs and sofas are old,
They'll fit your back better than any new set
Unless they're paid for in gold

If the house is too small draw closer together
Keep it warm with a hearty good will
A big one, unpaid for in all kinds of weather
Will send to your warm hearts a chill

Don't run in debt now dear girls take the hint
If the fashions have changed since last season,
Old Nature is out in the very same tint
And old Nature we think has some reason

Just say to your friends that you cannot afford
To spend time to keep up with the fashions,
That your purse is too light and your honor too bright,
To be tarnished by such silly passions

Gents, don't run in debt let your friends if they can,
Have the horses fine feathers and flowers,
But, unless they are paid for be more of a man
Than to envy the sunshiny hours

If you've money to spare, I have nothing to say
Spend your pounds and your pence as you please
But mind you, the man who his note has to pay,
Is the man who is never at ease

Kind husbands, now don't run in debt any more,
'Twill fill your wife's cup full of sorrow
To know that a neighbor will call at your door
With a bill you must settle to-morrow.

Oh, take my advice it is good it is true,
But, lest you may some of you doubt it,
I'll whisper a secret now seeing tis you
I've tried it, and know all about it

Sherman's Attack on Vicksburg.

Correspondence of the Missouri Republican from the camp before Vicksburg, dated January 1st, 1863, gives full details of Sherman's bloody and unsuccessful attempt to storm the lines of the enemy at that point On Saturday, the 27th of December, the attack commenced. The following is the account of the operations:

Our purposes were soon made clear by the movement of their columns on Saturday along the two roads leading from the Yazoo to the citadel Our army lay in the peninsula inclosed between the Old River and the Chickasaw bayou or creek General Morgan proceeded along the creek road, as I shall designate it, until he reached Mrs. Lake's house, a mile to the front. Here the enemy was seen posted behind the levee, which makes a turn so as to afford a good breastwork for riflemen They had two pieces of artillery in position Captain Hoffman's battery and the Thirteenth Illinois drove it off after a brief contest. The enemy retired to the base of the bluff, which had just become visible through the woods The main body of our troops kept on next morning (Sunday) along the edge of the creek, and were again met by a body of infantry concealed behind the levee and having several field pieces at the base of the bluff. Morgan L. Smith brought forward a brigade from the one direction, while Gen Blair ordered up another to sustain Col De Courcy in his opposition. The result was that after a terrific encounter between our field pieces and those of the enemy for two hours, in which the trees and ground were cut up terribly, but we lost few men, at a signal the brigade of De Courcy and the rest were ordered up to the charge.

Gen. Morgan L Smith was wounded early in the action, when the command devolved upon Gen. D Stuart. Col. Wyman, while in the act of telling his men to rise and rush forward, was pierced in the groin by a bullet, and died in less than two hours These things led to some temporary derangement, the brigade of De Courcy rushed on. The rebels fled, taking their outer field pieces and wheeling them up the hill. Our men came to the bayou in front of the first line of works to find them abandoned, and entered afterwards without much opposition. This gave rise to the report that we had taken a battery from the rebels, all of which is untrue as I am [illegible] we have neither taken nor lost a single gun. The losses in Sunday's action amounted to nearly two hundred The amount of cannonading was excessive, and seemed a fit overture for the [illegible], thrilling tragedy of the following day

We should have stated that on Saturday, while the troops of Gen Morgan were being landed between Old River and the mouth of Chickasaw creek, a portion of Gen. Steele's forces had been met a mile and a half further up the river, with a view of penetrating to the rear of Vicksburg, and, if possible, cut off the railroad communication with the Big Black River. The division of Gen. Steele, being by far the largest of the four, the large brigade of Gen. Blair was detached and sent to the extreme right, crossing the peninsula diagonally Steele with the balance of his forces landed under cover of a gunboat, and had gotten perhaps a mile and a half inland, when he found himself surrounded by a swamp on the one side, the impassable bayou on the other, and the bluffs lined with batteries in front. After receiving the shells for an hour, while vainly reconnoitering the locality, he sent this fact to Gen Sherman, who ordered him to return to the main body, which he did on Monday morning.

As the operations of Monday, the 29th, form one of the most interesting chapters in the history of the war, and may be placed among the most brilliant achievements, we have been particular to arrive at facts as nearly as possible. The work assigned to this army was to assault a strong fortification, to storm the hight upon which the works were placed and to do this in the presence of a vigilant and unscrupulous foe. We have thus far accomplished little further than to destroy the enemy's position, and contemplate the formidable nature of his preparations. All the fighting of the previous day was a mere interlude to that which was to follow Could we gain the summit of the hills after an awful slaughter, it was not at all certain that a furious effort would not be made to drive us out again—in other words, a pitched battle might have to be fought after the enemy was driven from his stronghold on the hillside.

On Monday morning, therefore, dark till seven, at daylight, the cannons opened. Faltering, uncertain and fitful at first, a mere contest between batteries in front. Battery after battery was wheeled forward with us, and battery after battery wheeled down by the enemy The "ball," as it usually does in siege, opened with artillery only At the bend in the Chickasaw creek, where it becomes a mere bayou at the foot of the bluffs, we had four thirty pounder Parrots. Around it, and on either wing, were howitzers, rifled brass pieces, steel guns—sixty cannon in all The enemy had been opening fire from one spot, then another—from ravine, and ledge, and abutment, from earthworks and crest, until they had a greater number in action. Two sixty-four pounders at the top of the ravine began to send their shells howling through the air The rapid incessant, spiteful fire of the guns began to assume a personality of vehemence. Shot and shell whistled shrilly and furiously across the separating space—a thousand yards in all. For three hours the contest was furious, the bursting of shells being mingled in the confused roar of cannon.

It was about two o'clock as the firing slackened During the terrific cannonading, troops had been summoned to the front Gen Steele, as second in command, had stationed himself near the center, with the brigade of Gen. Hovey as the reserve Gen Blair's brigade, with the exception of two regiments had been sent to the left across the Chickasaw bayou the previous night. Col. DeCourcy was assigned the left center, with Gen Thayer behind him as support. Col. Landrum again on his right, Gen D Stuart further to the right, and away to the extreme right, fronting another spur of the hills, was Smith The line moved forward There was a pause of a few minutes, a cheer long and loud and presently we could descry through the vista of trees a black line of troops pouring up the hillside They were moving from the left across a sloping plateau they entered one end of a line of rifle pits in a column of spluttering fire, as the mass of rebels left it at the other

The volleys thickened, the cannon belched out canister and shrapnel angrily The ranks had big gaps in them Raked, enfiladed and cross fired the focus of a hundred converging thunderbolts, ten thousand muskets aimed at them, they crouch, they falter, they fall A few (ah! how few) run, or rather crawl, up the slope. A thousand rapidly dwindled to a hundred. We see the flag going upward, the cheers grow fainter and fainter Fifty one left they near a clump of willows which swarms with hostile muskets The colors are planted close to the last line of rifle pits The rebels are running in all directions.

Too late. Why do the rest not advance? Shattered and shocked by the murderous cannonade in the hollow, they are cowering in the trenches All is over. The cheers like serpent hisses ring in our ears The enemy exults over our brave fallen. A dark looking mass [illegible] down the brow of the hill to the left. They have outflanked a few of our men and are driving them as prisoners. The next that is seen is a tumultuous stream of soldiers pouring across the bayou emerging through the woods, muddy, stained, heated, wounded, bleeding, enraged, weeping and frantically cursing. Some of them are supported, others limping. They rush to the water, they force themselves back to the rear. In vain do the officers cry "fall in men." They are wearing [illegible] have been ensnared [illegible] in a pitfall, a death trap. In a few minutes they are helpless, [illegible] rollable

Presently down comes a young English looking [illegible] hanging to his saddle, splashed to the crown with mud [illegible] to some officers mount [illegible] creek The men set up a cheer as he parts. "Who is that officer?" we asked. "That is Blair, the last man to leave the hill," was the answer. His brigade did indeed move farther in advance than the rest and accomplished by far the greatest feat of arms under fire over the greatest obstacles. In the midst of the hail of bullets did Blair advance unhurt, [illegible] a charmed life. It was truly a [illegible]. Of the two regiments which followed him to the top more than half were disabled. A third of his line officers killed or wounded. The miracle is that there returned a man to tell the story of their deeds.

It appears that from the east of the bayou they had to cross a slough in front of the rifle pits in which there were four feet of water and mud. On the further steep bank was a growth of young cotton woods which had been cut and piled upon each other so as to form the most impassable barrier to horse or foot. Blair's horse mired and fell into the slough and the General made the charge on foot. The distance from this bayou to the upper line of rifle pits near which the flag was planted is three hundred and fifty yards. Had his advance been sustained by the rest of the forces detached on the service, the plateau could have been won, a lodgment made where the enemy's artillery was [illegible], and the hights taken in all probability. That it was not, may not be the fault of the officers who were charged with its execution but it is their misfortune as it is that of their suffering country

Proclamation by the Governor

EXECUTIVE OFFICE PORTLAND OREGON, January 1 1863

By the President of the United States through Brigadier General George Wright commanding the Department of the Pacific and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord commanding the District of Oregon I have been requested to raise six additional companies required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry Oregon Volunteers They will be used the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory and for an expedition against the Snake Indians who have so long been mercilessly engaged in robbing emigrants and murdering our fellow citizens I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services will in like manner respond to this call thereby showing their loyalty to the Government and aiding in chastising marauding bands of Indians which infest our frontiers

The enlisted men when mounted will be supplied with horses by the United States it being understood that they will be mounted or not as shall be deemed advisable by the Government

Propositions to raise a whole company which will furnish their own horses and horse equipments, may be entertained The men are in such cases entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and horse equipments

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men and when mustered into the service of the United States to serve for three years unless sooner discharged

Recruiting offices will be immediately opened at Portland Dalles City, and perhaps at other places By the Governor,

ADDISON C GIBBS

CYRUS A REED Adjutant General
